Consolidated Water Co. to Buy Peoples and Others, Proposed

Approval of Railroad Commission Asked by Committee

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Organization of a new company to take over the Peoples Water Company, which supplies the residents of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and suburbs, to be known as the Consolidated Water Company, is proposed in a plan prepared by the reorganization committee and submitted to the railroad commission today. A date for public hearing will be set by the commission and all interested parties will be given an opportunity to make any objection to the proposed plan.

SEVERAL COMPANIES. The new corporation besides taking over the property of the Peoples Water Company will acquire the assets of the Contra Costa Water Company, the Oakland Water Company, the Alameda Artesian Water Company and the East Shore Water Company.

The commission is asked to determine the securities which it will permit to be issued in the matter of the reorganization and to give the company permission to assist and take any other steps necessary or advisable in carrying out any reorganization plan approved by the commission.

Texas Attorney Named As Agent to Mexico

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Secretary Bryan announced today that Daniel West, an attorney of San Antonio, Tex., had been selected to go to Mexico as the confidential agent of the State Department. No announcement was made of his mission. He has been here conferring with Mr. Bryan several days.

OTHERS MAY BE INDICTED FOR FRAUD

George Lynch, former chauffeur for Supervisor Joseph M. Kelley and at present employed in Kelley's laundry, who was arrested last night upon an indictment returned by the grand jury late yesterday afternoon on a charge of assisting in voting absentee, was released from the county jail today on bonds and each bail furnished by Kelley and by Al White, proprietor of a Broadway saloon and billiard parlor.

Indictments against Lynch include four true bills and Superior Judge Waste fixed bail at $2500 on each count, making $10,000 in all. It was rumored at the courthouse today that other indictments and arrests are likely to follow.

Lynch is charged with having assisted in voting absentees during the primary election in precinct No. 37, where F. S. Beach, now awaiting sentence upon his conviction of election frauds, served as an election officer.

OAKLAND SOCIETY GIRL QUIETLY WEDS

It is an interesting surprise to the friends of the wedding of Miss Mary Haines and Dudley Dexter, which took place quietly today at the First Methodist Church, with only members of the two families present. Not the closest friends of the bride were taken into her confidence and they will only learn of the marriage when the young couple are safely away on their honeymoon, having fringed a fashionable wedding and showing of love.

Oil King Says Not, But Publicists Contradict

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—In sharp contradiction of John D. Rockefeller's views, expressed during his testimony to the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations, today came the charges made by two foremost publicists that the great foundation established by the oil king's millions had acquired control of at least one other independent agency, and through one of its co-ordinate branches, was "poisoning education at the source by opposing all educators who do not subscribe to its views."

DEADLOCK IN SENATE UNBROKEN

Republicans Continue Struggle Against Ship Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—At 4 p. m. today the Senate had been in continuous session fifty-two hours—the longest session on record—and there was no break in the fight over the administration ship bill. The first break in the administration forces came when Senator Norris, Progressive Republican who has been voting with the administration Democrats, declared he saw little use of delaying other legislation as the Republicans had demonstrated they held votes enough to filibuster the ship bill to death.

Without his vote the Democrats could not pass the bill until they got other support. Various plans for action, such as passing a shipping bill in the House, were discussed with the leaders by President Wilson, and while it was generally expected the President would call an extra session on March 5 if the bill fails, all efforts were concentrated on pushing the measure through now.

The first intimation that the reviving Democrats might be brought back into the fold to vote for the bill in an amended form came late today. Senator Hardwick said overtures were being made for a conference between the Democratic leaders and the revolvers.

SLAVS BEGIN NEW HUNGARIAN DRIVE THROUGH VALLEYS

Eastern Battles Overshadow Those of West in Ferocity; Germans in Desperate Attempt to Advance

By Associated Press. BERLIN, Feb. 10, by wireless to London, 6 p. m.—The successes achieved by the Austro-German forces in Bukowina, the Hungarian crown land adjoining Galicia, have caused the abandonment by the Russians of Czernowitz, capital of Bukowina, and are marching toward Czernowitz, which has been abandoned by the Russian governor, Evreinich, and his garrison, who retired to Novosielica, on the Russian border east of Czernowitz.

RUSSIANS HAVE BEGUN INVASION OF HUNGARY

By Associated Press. GENEVA, via Paris, Feb. 10.—The Russians are marching into Hungary by the valleys of the Theiss and Ung rivers, according to advices received here. Taking the offensive at Korosmezo, they are said to have inflicted severe losses on the Austrians and advanced five miles in the direction of Borkut, in the Lyutle valley. The Russians progressed southward as far as Turja-Remete and Pereseny, on the railroad from Turja to Ungvar, capturing two batteries embedded in the mud in the Polonina-Runa mountains.

FIGHT MOST FEROCIOUS BATTLE IN HISTORY

By Associated Press. PETROGRAD, Feb. 10.—Details of a desperate fight in the Carpathian mountains, with ferocious bayonet charges, described as without precedent in history, reached Petrograd today. According to these reports, repeated German attacks were finally repulsed by the Russians, and the German dead lay in great numbers in front of the Russian positions.

The scene of the fighting was Baligrod, three miles south of Sanok, in Galicia. It is claimed by the Russian staff that the Hungarian forces in the Carpathians have been augmented by 300,000 Germans and that German officers now are definitely directing the Carpathian movement.

The German plan, in so far as it can be observed here, now seems to be to abandon gradually their aggressive on the Bzura and in the Vistula region and to transfer their troops to points where there is greater opportunity of piercing the Russian defensive. The fighting in the Carpathians would appear to be a part of this procedure.

WIRE BURNS ARMS OFF CHILD

Physicians Amputate to Save Pain-Racked Baby

BULLETIN. At a late hour this afternoon the death of 5-year-old Alice Figueroa was expected at any moment by the physicians attending her at the county infirmary.

Playfully picking up a high-tensioned wire, tore down by the recent storm, 5-year-old Alice Figueroa is now lying in a cot at the county infirmary, hovering between life and death, with both arms amputated, as a result of the frightful shock she received.

Seizing a dangling wire yesterday, the child was hurled to the earth, a smoldering mass. Hurried to the hospital, amputation was resorted to as the last means of saving her life. Both arms were removed at the shoulders.

Continually working over the small, pain-racked body at the infirmary, Dr. C. A. Willis, the superintendent; Dr. E. C. Billingsley and a corps of nurses are trying to ward away death. Time after time last night they resorted to heroic measures to keep the little one alive. The child, semi-conscious and partly delirious with pain, and not realizing her predicament, is making that the physicians declare one of the most remarkable fights for life ever seen at the institution.

HAS FIGHTING CHANCE. Rallied from the last performed operation, the child was declared late last night to have a fighting chance. Several nurses were placed at the task of keeping life in the little body, although each declared that death probably would be more welcome to the little one than the crippling life she cannot realize is store for her.

With both arms gone and suffering terribly as the result of her horrible experience, the child rallied slightly today under the care of the nurses, and according to the hospital attendants, has a bare chance.

A telephone wire, which, in falling, crossed one of the high tension lines on the Dublin road, near Castro Valley, and was playfully seized by the child, was the cause of the little one's injuries. The girl was playing on the road and seeing no harm in the dangling bit of wire, took it in both hands.

FRIGHTFULLY BURNED.

Both arms were seared until the flesh fell from the bones, and the child was hurried back unconscious, a smoldering mass.

Other children who saw the accident screamed the alarm and the baby was hurried to Hayward, where Dr. U. C. Billingsley rushed her to the operating table at the county hospital. Amputation was performed immediately as the last measure to save the child's life. Throughout the night Dr. Willis and his nurses watched by the child's bedside, and several times resorted to heroic measures to keep life in the small, pain-racked body.

The telephone wire that caused the damage had been blown down by the storm and fell across one of the big 26,000-volt conductors that bring in heavy currents. An investigation is being made by the electric company. The child is the daughter of John Figueroa, a rancher at Niles, and had been spending the day with some friends on a Castro Valley farm. The accident happened late yesterday afternoon, when, it being almost dusk, neither she nor her companions could have seen the position of the wire even had they realized its peril.

WILHELMINA MAY BE HELD

Ship Enters English Port While Foreign Officer Ponders Problem.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 10, 3:46 p. m.—The British foreign office started an inquiry today into the nature of the cargo of the American steamship Wilhelmina, preparatory to deciding finally what attitude the government shall adopt in the case.

The Wilhelmina sailed from New York January 22 for Hamburg with a cargo of foodstuffs. Last night she put into Falmouth.

WHOLE CASE ALTERED.

By Associated Press.
FALMOUTH, Feb. 10.—The cargo of the Wilhelmina has not yet been seized, it was said today at the customs office. Captain Brewer said that until he reached England he had not heard of the seizure of the German government concerning the information of foodstuffs and that he considered that this action by Germany altered the whole aspect of the case.

ADMIRALTY WARNING HERE.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, delivered to the state department today a copy of the memorandum of the German foreign office amplifying the German admiral's recent proclamation warning neutral ships to enter the new war zone around Great Britain and Ireland.

Inasmuch as the German foreign office memorandum had been delayed in transmission from Ambassador Gerard, the German embassy seemed to supply the information which the American government has been waiting before expressing itself on the proclamation itself. The memorandum, written in German, will be translated at the state department and will give the United States the basis for opening diplomatic correspondence.

OTHER ARRESTS IN FRAUD CASES

experts were called. It appearing that no one seemed just certain in his opinion of the exemplars of handwriting.

Beach maintained that he had not committed fraud by writing in the names of absentees and voting them.

James Higgins and Charles L. Gale as emphatically declared their innocence of having perpetrated fraud. Higgins especially was insistent of his innocence and went to San Quentin to serve five years in a bitter frame of mind.

Higgins and Gale steadfastly refused to implicate any others in the election frauds and took their punishment stoically as far as making any utterance that would involve others was concerned. Beach was supposed to have known who was perpetrating the frauds, if in fact he did not assist in the fraud himself, and it is now upon Beach's information furnished to the grand jury that the indictments have been returned against Lynch.

Lynch drove an automobile on election day and assisted in taking voters to the polls. It is rumored that Beach has in telling his story, implicated Lynch as having directed the voting of absentees.

FRIENDS SEEK VINDICATION.
During the last few weeks the friends of Beach have been quickly gathering evidence that would tend to vindicate him in the actual perpetration of election frauds. Since his conviction by a jury the district attorney's office has not been satisfied with the case and the defendant's request for probation has been pending.

That Beach himself has not confessed or directed others to do so has been intimated, but it is declared that his friends have furnished evidence that involves others in the primary frauds.

Action on probation for Beach will be all probabilities be taken next Tuesday.

In the meantime the new developments in the primary election frauds have paved the way for further investigations of alleged frauds in the general election, and it is likely that the grand jury will be furnished new and startling evidence.

DECLINES TO DISCUSS.
Lynch today declined to discuss his case from any standpoint and he has maintained that attitude since his arrest.

He is charged with "willfully, unlawfully, fraudulently and feloniously procuring, assisting, counseling and advising John Doe, John Green, John Jones and John Black, whose true names are unknown to the grand jury, to give and offer their votes at the primary election, when the said persons were not then and there at all qualified to vote at the said election in precinct No. 37 (Fifth and Jackson streets) and when the said George Lynch well knew that the said persons were not qualified to vote."

Lynch drove an automobile on election day and carried numerous voters to the polls. The names of numerous absentees were voted in precinct No. 37. Persons who had registered and left the city or who had changed their places of residence, and failed to vote themselves, were discovered to have been duly signed on the roster of voters as having cast ballots.

WHO SUPPLIED LISTS?
Who supplied these lists and verified the absence of the parties whose names are alleged to have been voted illegally is a matter that will probably come out when the grand jury makes further report and when the trial of Lynch begins.

The grand jury held a session this morning and adjourned until tomorrow morning. One of the witnesses called was a woman who had acted on the election board in precinct No. 37.

FEROCIOUS BAYONET CHARGES MARK CARPATHIAN BATTLE

Germans early the following morning began what doubtless rapidly developed into one of the fiercest attacks in the Carpathian campaign.

PUSH FORWARD SECOND LINE.

With their first line almost annihilated, the Germans pushed forward their second line under the support of heavy artillery, and were successful in gaining a strategic elevation. But from this position they were almost immediately driven back by a Russian bayonet charge. Attack and counter-attack followed in rapid succession and towards evening the Germans, in great numbers, seemed to be in permanent possession of the heights. Then a general counter-attack by the Russians resulted in two hours of hard hand-to-hand fighting which left the snow-clad hillsides strewn with dead. After a most stubborn resistance the German regiments finally were definitely driven out. A Russian officer claims personally to have counted upwards of 1000 German dead before the Russian positions on this hill. He described this engagement as typical of the battles which are occurring daily in the Carpathians.

5200 GERMANS CAPTURED, PETROGRAD REPORTS

By Associated Press.
PETROGRAD, Feb. 10.—The general staff of the Russian army has given out an official statement, as follows:

"The Germans who gradually had been concentrating in East Prussia, began a series of reconnaissance, and on February 7 they opened offensive operations with considerable forces in the district between Horzel and Johannsbuerg. They undertook at the same time active operations on both wings of their front in East Prussia. In the vicinity of Lassehnen, to the east of Tilsit, we drove back a German attack and succeeded in almost completely annihilating one of the German battalions opposed to us. Following this encounter, our cavalry moved forward in the direction of Sierpec, traveling over the road to Rypin.

"On the left bank of the Vistula during the day of February 8 the enemy showed no signs of activity. Judging from the corpses abandoned by the Germans in front of our positions, they would appear to have been dead and wounded several tens of thousands of men in the six days fighting in front of Borlino, Goumine and Wola Szynlowicka.

GERMAN RETIRE.

"In the Carpathians the fighting continued in the vicinity of Bartfeld and Sydnik. The enemy here undertook active operations, but they did not thus continue, and they finally retired, leaving prisoners in our hands. In the vicinity of Mount Loupouk we continued our pursuit of the enemy, and in one day we captured 60 officers, 5200 men and 18 machine guns.

"Germans, having made their way over the Tuholka pass, delivered during the day of February 7 no fewer than 22 violent attacks upon certain heights in the region of Kozlowka, occupied by us. The Germans came forward to this attack several ranks deep, presenting a full front line.

"Under our violent cross-fire the Germans were twice taken possession of certain heights, but they were dislodged by counter attacks delivered by our infantry.

"This success was preceded by long and violent hand-to-hand fighting with a bayonet, which is without precedent in history.

"The losses sustained in this engagement by the Germans were exceedingly heavy.

REPEATED ATTACKS.

"Attacks of the enemy in the vicinity of Wyszokowo also were repulsed. In the Black Sea the former German cruiser Breslau (now a unit of the Turkish navy) bombarded Yalta, in the Crimea. Our cruisers on February 8 shelled a Turkish battery at Trebizond and sunk one steamer. Another steamer loaded with provisions and a two-masted schooner were sunk near Leroc.

"In an order of attack our positions near Kozlowka the Germans commenced their concentration of troops the night of February 7.

"Early the next morning they began the delivery of an irrefragable offensive movement, and their attack was supported by a very violent fire from their heavy artillery. They were successful in gaining an important height occupied by us, but they were promptly driven from this position before our bayonets.

TAKE HIGH POSITIONS.

"The attacks followed without let up. Toward evening the Germans in very considerable numbers took possession of the highest position on our part, from which they were dislodged only after a desperate fight. Before retiring they exhausted all their strength in a stubborn resistance to a general counter attack on our part, a feature of which was an unprecedented encounter with the bayonet.

"All the side of this hill was covered by German corpses. In front of one of our battalions more than 1000 German dead were counted.

"Among the trophies captured near Kozlowka are three mine throwers. At Rawka, near the railroad to Skiernewice, Russian foot soldiers were successful in throwing eight bombs into the German trenches. These missiles caused great destruction. Russian aviators threw bombs on German troops near Rawka.

"The general staff of the Russian army, the Caucasus communications under date of February 8 that there has been no engagement of importance to record."

EASTERN ARENA'S BATTLES ARE OVERSHADOWING

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 10, 12:17 p. m.—The eastern battle front completely overshadows the western fighting line today as the center of interest in the military operations. The Teutonic allies evidently are endeavoring to force a decisive advance, especially in the region of Galicia, to the south of Przemyel and Lemberg, where attempts have been made to gain positions by sheer weight of numbers.

The general offensive movement of the Austro-German forces along the Carpathian mountains has been successful at the eastern end of the range, where the Russians are retreating into Bukovina, but London military experts are of the opinion that the Austrians must forge ahead long in this direction before they can hope to affect the general Russian position.

The vital point in Dukla Pass, where a short advance by the Russians would compel the Austrians to look anxiously to their communications. At present the battle in the region of Dukla Pass has all the aspects of a draw.

The most sanguinary fighting, according to Russian reports, took place in the Carpathian mountains, where the Germans attempted to cross Tuholka Pass. The Teutons attacked in massed formation several ranks deep and gained several heights occupied by the Russians, only to be forced back by desperate counter attacks. Both sides must have suffered terrible losses in this hand-to-hand battle.

A German report states that heavy artillery actions are in progress in the Carpathians and that an advance is being made on Bukovina, where the important town of Wama has been occupied by the Germans.

"Some whispers of a demand for peace come from the Teutonic allies in the form of reports of a Socialist speech in the Prussian Diet declaring that the people want peace and a petition is said to have been sent to Baron Brihan, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs by some Hungarian deputies demanding that steps be taken to end the war.

The American steamship Wilhelmina, which arrived at Falmouth last night with a cargo of foodstuffs from New York, declined to leave Germany, still anchored in Falmouth harbor, but nothing is volunteered by the British authorities concerning the fate of her cargo.

FILIBUSTER BREAKS SENATE RECORDS

Republican Members Continue Fight Against Ship Measure.

Senator Townsend, Republican, had relieved Senator Sherman, who had been talking since 1 a. m. the opening of the debate on the shipping bill from the Republican side. While Townsend spoke fresh forces on both sides of the chamber relieved the tired, heavy-eyed senators who had stood guard through the night. Many senators had been to bed under the physical strain of the fight. Senator Penrose was compelled last night to go to his hotel, under the care of a physician. Others were forced by physical exhaustion to retire to their homes, but plans of Senate leaders were made to rush them back on short notice should their votes be needed.

Twice during the night Republicans and allied Democrats of the opposition vainly sought to adjourn the Senate, but administration lines held firmly. Majority Leader Kern asserted early in the day that there would be no let up until the pending question on a Senator Fletcher to recommit the bill with instructions for its immediate amendment and return to the Senate could be put to a vote.

PRESIDENT CONFERS.

Meanwhile means for forcing the shipping bill through were being discussed by President Wilson at early morning conferences today with Majority Leader Underwood of the House and Representative Kitchen, who is to succeed Underwood as House leader after March 1. The President's suggestion to the House leaders was that the Senate shipping bill might be attached as an amendment to the Weeks bill, already passed by the Senate, providing for the use of coastwise shipping for mails and freight. The Weeks bill is now before the House naval affairs committee. The President, it was understood, had not finally determined to press this idea, but it is said to have surprised a number of Republicans in the Senate.

Kitchen went to the White House primarily to take up with the President the views of members of the ways and means committee that the bill should be a number of Congress. He stated that position frankly to the President, but went away with the impression that the President will insist on the shipping bill, even if it necessitates an extra session.

An alternative suggestion taken up by the President with House leaders was that Senator Gore's substitute shipping bill be taken up immediately in the House. It was the President's idea that passage of a shipping bill through the House would give it prestige in the Senate.

KUHN, LOEB'S INTEREST.

Meanwhile, as debate proceeded in the Senate, Senator Townsend aroused the Democrats with an assertion that Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York bankers, were interested in the passage of the bill.

Senator Lewis, Democrat, demanded Senator Townsend's source of information.

"I know that a common rumor is in circulation to that effect," retorted Senator Townsend. "I do know that a member of the Federal Reserve Board, I know that a brother of that member is connected in the shipping business and I know that it will require large sums of money for the government to carry out this project. I think I know that the government is going to rely upon its favorite Kuhn, Loeb & Co. as it has increased its deposits, as deposits of banks not so friendly to the administration have decreased proportionately."

"Does not the senator know," demanded Senator Martin, "that Paul M. Warburg resigned from Kuhn, Loeb & Co. when he went to the Federal Reserve Board and proclaimed his action publicly?"

Senator Bristol suggested Warburg had transferred his interest in Kuhn, Loeb & Co. to a member of his family.

"If it is true," said Senator Bristol, "that Warburg's interests in Kuhn, Loeb & Co. have been transferred over to a member of his family, and if his brother is a supervising head of a great trans-Atlantic steamship line which now has 24 ships interned in American ports, and if Kuhn, Loeb & Co. handle the securities of this steamship line is it not reasonable to suppose that if this bill passes the United States will be urged to buy those ships?"

MOVE TO SET BILL ASIDE.

To my mind," replied Senator Townsend, "there is a suspicious circumstance which the government of the United States should not become involved in."

When Senator Townsend concluded Senator Gallinger moved to lay aside the bill and take up the water power bill. That proposal, however, was tabled, 49 to 39. Senators Bankhead, Hardwick and Vandamm of the Democratic side on the vote. Senator La Follette, Republican, voted with the Republicans to take up the water power bill. The loss of Senator Norris' vote showed a threatened break in the administration lines. The Newsmen disclosed that he was undecided whether to aid the effort to force the measure through.

"The Republicans have shown," he said, "just before he entered the chamber, that they are in a position to vote on the ship bill until the end of the session. By pressing the bill we accomplish nothing and prevent the passage of urgent legislation which will fall entirely unopposed at this session. It seems to me that the ship bill could better go over until the next session, than that other measures should be continued."

Senator Norris' vote would give the opponents of the ship bill a majority.

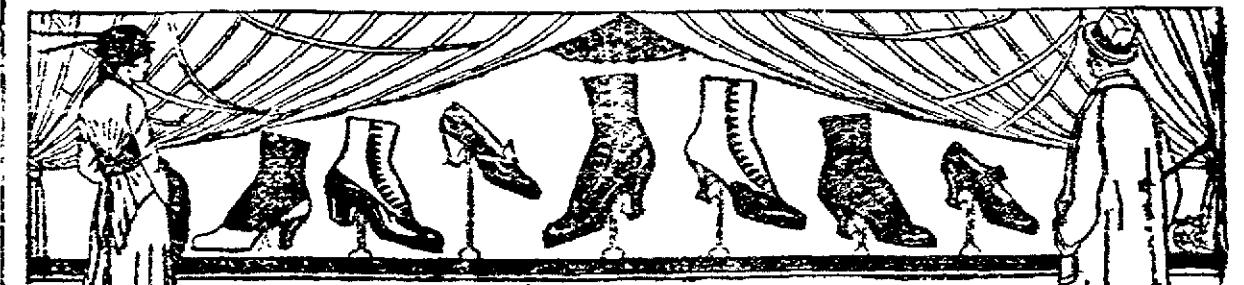

Senator McLean spoke for the Republicans about two hours and was followed by Senator Cummings.

The Iowa senator declared he had brought to the right of the United States to be interested ships, but asserted that, as foreign nations did not concern, the spectacle of the seizure and condemnation of these ships in foreign prize courts was certain to follow. At the close of the European war, he said, great opportunities would be presented for development of international law, but the present was no time to attempt to modify it.

FIGHT FOR SUPREMACY.

The period of calm early today came only after a bitter struggle for supremacy about the shipping bill. The Republicans and their supporters on the Democratic side sought to end the session, but the motion to adjourn was lost by a vote of 44 to 44.

On the other hand, Senators Fletcher and Stone attempted to get a vote on the initial portions of the recomproposed to organize plans to issue $2,000,000 of first mortgage bonds of which $2,000,000 will remain in the treasury to be used as needed to defray a portion of the expenses of extensions and betterment made after January 1, 1915. STOCK ISSUE PROPOSED.

It is proposed also to issue $3,000,000 of stock. Of this amount $2,000,000 is to be used for the purpose of acquiring the Contra Costa Water Company's bonds held in ownership. The bond owners are to receive for each $1000 bond and all coupons thereon due on or after January 2, 1914, eleven shares of stock of Consolidated Water Company. C. C. Harvins of Oakland is to receive $100,000 par value of the stock for services rendered and to be rendered in assisting the reorganization committee and the various protective committees.

The filing of the plan of reorganization today followed a request made by the railroad commission that the matter be presented in formal order in order that all protests might be fully considered.

NEGLECT BEGETS DIVORCE.

An interlocutory decree of divorce was granted this morning by Superior Judge William Donahue to Lela Harris from her husband, James C. Harris, on the ground of willful neglect. The couple were married in St. Louis in 1901. The alimony was fixed at $25 per month.

On the day of the divorce, the length of the term for which the government ships might be loaned. Republican senators clamored in excitement for the right to speak, but Senator Stone, on the floor, cutting off Senator McCumber's speech, which had been planned to continue far into the morning hours.

A parliamentary wrangle ensued and the Democrats abandoned their effort to force a vote, although every available senator and Vice-President Marshall were called to the chamber. The encounter was marked by a verbal clash between Senators Stone and Penrose as a result of which Senator Penrose was taken to his hotel with a temperature of over 100 degrees.

Only one attempt was made during the early morning hours of Senator Sherman's speech to take him from the floor. With Senator James in the chair for a few moments, Senator Hughes made the point of order that Senator Sherman was not discussing the bill. Senator Sherman explained that his remarks regarding the operation of the parcels post system were in order because they dealt with government ownership. Senator Hughes firmly withdrew his point. Senator Kern, however, serving notice that he might renew the point later.

MILITANTS STORM CAPITOL

Suffragists and Antis Hold Rival Night Rallies

By Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Suffragists and anti-suffragists have taken possession of different legislative halls in the capitol and last night held demonstrations to throngs that over-crowded both sitting and standing room.

In the Senate chamber suffragists celebrated the adoption by both houses of their resolution which will permit the voters to pass on suffrage this fall, while in the Assembly the anti-suffragists inveighed against granting women the ballot.

Mrs. Harriet Sanford declared her belief that suffrage would be granted to the New York women next fall.

"We are going ahead to the day of glorious victory," she said.

In declaring that women were inconsistent in politics, Miss Lucy Price criticized Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago.

"Miss Jane Addams," she said, "seriously interfered with the peace propaganda, of which she always has been a supporter, by tying up with the Progressive party, which swallowed two battleships a year as a part of the platform."

VILLA REJECTS PEACE PROFFER

He Denounces San Antonio
Conferees as Politicians and Oppressors.

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 10.—Francisco Villa declines to heed the appeal of the Mexican peace conference held here last Saturday. In a reply received last night by Federico Gamboa, chairman of the committee named by the conference to transmit to the leaders of the warring Mexican factions its resolution asking them to lay down their arms and to proclaim peace, Villa bitterly arraigns the men who called the conference and rejects the plan proposed.

Villa signs himself "chief of operations." His reply was telegraphed from Pangua, Guanajuato. The reply follows:

"I refer to your telegram of yesterday. It would be an excellent idea of yours if it would not contain an insane ambition and an immoderate wish to cause more bloodshed and ruin to the republic. I don't think that you have any right to be afraid of the frightful situation in our mother country, because those who by their ambitions and by their immoderate exploitation of the people provoked the great state of affairs should only conclude with the punishments due to them and the exaltation of the humiliated people. In that group there exist eternal enemies of liberty and enemies of the people who will be forever the unconditional friends of the dictators, Diaz and Huerta.

NO AMBITIONS.

"I do not know why the men who have originated this state of affairs should find fault with it, being as it is that they have been a strange land and left here all of the people, like myself, who are trying to save the republic with all of our strength and blood.

"Personally, I have not any ambitions and I emphatically declare that I am ready to retire from the political affairs of Mexico as soon as the peace of the nation is established, and when I see that the men who have made her poor and who lived on the people have retired."

General Felipe Angeles, one of Villa's generals, wired from Monterey a reply to the peace conference appeal. In his reply Angeles said:

"I answer your important telegram and I am sorry that I cannot make myself more explicit. I judge that the society that you are president of is not for procuring the pacification of Mexico.

"I don't want a government composed of friends of ours, but of persons really duly elected by the people, even though they may be my enemies."

All Aboard! Toot! Toot!
For California's Fair

By Associated Press.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10.—With nearly 500 passengers on board, many of them of national reputation, the steamer Great Northern left for the municipal pier at the foot of Broadway at 9:30 o'clock after a leisurely run from New York City through the Panama Canal to this port. On the last stage of the cruise heavy weather delayed the ship, which was due to arrive at Point Loma, where it was to dock at 7 o'clock this morning. The steamer is scheduled to resume the cruise to San Francisco at midnight tonight.

Today the passengers are the guests of the Panama California Exposition and the Chamber of Commerce. Two hundred automobiles were at the dock this morning to take them on a tour of the exposition and the city. Rain was falling early, but at 10 o'clock the skies began to clear. On reaching San Francisco the ship will prepare for an excursion to Honolulu before going on her regular run between Flavel, Ore., and San Francisco.

Hubby's Fondness for Women Causes Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Because hubby scattered his coin to chorus girls and smiled and flirted with cafe waitresses and cabaret singers, even while she was in his company, Mrs. Isabelle Robben, wife of George Robben, a mariner, testified today that her marital existence was not a bed of roses. Superior Judge Morgan, after listening to her disclosures, gave her an interlocutory decree of divorce. Mrs. Robben says that while they were dining in Los Angeles, that her husband threw all of his money to the performers, who eagerly left the stage and the table tops to scoop it up. Coming to San Francisco more recently she asserts that she again accompanied him to a cafe only to have him repeat the performance and leave without settling the bill.

Get Rid of Humors and Avoid Disease

Humors in the blood cause internal derangements that affect the whole system, as well as pimples, boils and eruptions. They affect all the organs and functions, membranes and tissues, and are directly responsible for the readiness with which some people contract disease.

For forty years Hood's Sarsaparilla has been more successful than any other medicine in expelling humors and removing their inward and outward effects. It is distinguished for its thoroughness in purifying the blood, which it enriches and invigorates. No other medicine acts like it, for no other medicine is like it.

MORE RAIN, SAYS U. S. FORECASTER

Get Out Your Umbrella, for Another Downpour Is Coming.

By Associated Press.

Although Old Sol displaced Jupiter Pluvius and smiled upon a dreary landscape in the region hereabouts this morning and reportedly during the day, the powers that be declare that the present storm has not ended, not by any means. At the United States weather bureau Forecaster G. H. Willson beamed at the atmosphere hereabouts and took his observations in the high tower at the top of the Merchants' Exchange building long before most of the people were out of their beds. He then decided that there would be more rain, but that it would come to us in showery fashion with an element of playful capriciousness in its makeup. Alternating sunshine and downpour was his diagnosis of the situation.

It is believed that the sun and the rain will play hide-and-seek for at least another twenty-four hours and that we may expect about an equal amount of each.

Northern California received comparatively little rain during the past twenty-four hours, but the southern section of the state was well drenched. The high water mark was reached at Redlands, where 2.64 inches fell, and in the region in and around Los Angeles and on toward San Diego conditions were at the flood. The wires there broke and Point Reyes were isolated over night, but there was no rain at the former points. The precipitation spread well into the valley and was in such a nature to do good and sink in the ground. Snow is still falling in the mountains. The rivers are rising, but there is no report of danger yet.

WEATHER REPORT.

Reports of precipitation officially tabulated at the weather bureau for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 a. m. follow:

Redlands	2.64
San Bernardino	2.02
Pomona	2.02
Corona	1.50
Orange	1.30
Oroville	.90
Tasadena	.50
San Luis Obispo	.28
Stockton	.68
San Jose	.58
San Francisco	.46
Mount Tamalpais	.46
San Diego	.40

Point Reyes	.34
Sacramento	.22
Santa Barbara	.22

TRUCKEE IN STORM'S GRIP.

With Truckee nearly buried under heavy snow drifts, the Truckee river choked with ice for the first time in twenty-six years, and back water approaching the town, rotary snow plows, teams and other means are being employed in a hard fight to keep roads open, and the lower portion of the town is facing flood danger as a result of the approaching water. The heaviest snowstorm of many seasons is raging, according to reports received today from railroad and weather bureau headquarters, and mail routes to Tahoe and other Mills have been abandoned, the roads being impassable. House tops have disappeared and fences are covered with snow. Roads to Donner lake have been broken and every effort is being made to keep the ice palace free of the piles of snow which threaten to bury it.

The Southern Pacific has kept its rotary plow buzzing steadily, and the tracks so far have been kept clear of snow. Plans for tunnels across streets in case the snows get heavier are now being made.

CIRCLED BY WATER.

San Jose is circled by high water as a result of the storms, according to the weather bureau reports, and telephone communication to many suburban points has been cut off. Waters from the Guadalupe river, which broke its levees, is running three feet deep across the county roads between San Jose and Alviso, and flood water is deep in all orchards about the city.

Heavy rain on the mountains last night resulted in the rising of all streams, and plans are now under consideration by the supervisors of Santa Clara county for the formation of a drainage district. Considerable damage is reported by farmers. Heavy rain and considerable rain is reported from Chico, and George Jackson, a rancher, was blown from a hay wagon by a gust of wind. He was uninjured. A windmill and tank-house were demolished.

Night riding is still safe, and work continues against the slowly rising floods. The danger will probably be at its height by tomorrow night, according to Forecaster Taylor.

RECORD DOWNPOUR.

Porterville reports the heaviest rainfall recorded during the ten years the government has kept weather records in Porterville, 1.15 inches of precipitation bringing streams in the foothills nearly to the flood stage.

In Los Angeles heavy rain, which followed a severe windstorm early yesterday, continues intermittently. The fall reached 1.57 inches last night, making a total for the season of 12.29 inches, which is only .75 inches less than last year's unusual rainfall.

Shipping and traffic were much delayed yesterday and last night. The expectation of a continuance of the storm is causing residents of the ocean shore town to adopt protective measures against the high tides. Sandbag bulwarks and temporary riprapping is being placed before beach resort homes and apartment houses close to the shore.

A heavy rainstorm which started last Sunday night continued through yesterday at Modesto, with no signs of stopping. The Tuolumne and Stanislaus rivers have risen above their banks and the lowlands are flooded, but no damage has been reported.

Reported heavy rainfall in the mountains and rapid melting of snow are expected to bring the rivers to record high water stages today.

Although rain fell in Sacramento last night the Sacramento river is falling at most points and little danger is anticipated. At 7 o'clock last night the river registered 25.3 feet in Sacramento and was rising very slowly.

As a result of the terrific gale of Monday local shipping men are worried over several coastwise vessels that are long overdue.

The steamer Tampico, Seattle to San Francisco, is now two days overdue. It was sighted five days ago off Tatoosh for the last time. The Redondo, from Com Bay, is twenty hours late. The Revilla, from the same port, is thirty-eight hours overdue, and from neither has any word been received.

W. Hebbard charged that the lieutenants of Mr. Rockefeller have obtained control of the American Social Hygiene Association and have submerged it in the Rockefeller foundation. Mr. Hebbard is secretary of the state board of charities.

Dr. William H. Allen, former director of the bureau of municipal research, is the author of the assertion that the general education board, one of the divisions of the Rockefeller foundation, is influencing educators by opposition to those who oppose its tenets and aims.

The Federal commission has adjourned its New York hearings, but the case of John D. Rockefeller, philanthropist, is not closed on the minutes of the board. Numerous witnesses today are being cited to appear when next the inquisitors convene, either here or at Washington, to resume consideration of the mammoth philanthropies.

Mr. Rockefeller disclaims ulterior ambition in his vast foundation, in this language:

"The sole motives underlying the various foundations which I have established have been the desire to devote a portion of my fortune to the services of my fellow men."

"I have such confidence in democracy that I believe it can better be left to the people and their representatives to remedy evils when there is some tangible reason for believing they are impending rather than to restrict the power for service in anticipation of purely hypothetical dangers."

LONDON, Feb. 10, 3:34 p. m.—Without definitely refusing the suggestion, the foreign office has, nevertheless, so expressed its disapproval of the proposal for a joint prize court to which one more just judge might be appointed by the neutral and the allied powers, that there seems little likelihood of the adoption of the idea.

The matter was raised in the House of Commons this afternoon, the suggestion being that such a court might be instituted in connection with the issues arising between Great Britain and the United States.

Cruiser Colorado Due

VALLEJO, Feb. 10.—The cruiser Colorado, Lieutenant Commander David Boye, is due at Mare Island Friday morning from Bremerton. The vessel is to have a new wireless installed and must leave the night of the 19th as to attend the opening of the exposition in San Francisco. The Colorado was ordered to San Francisco in place of the Maryland, which is now in Mexican waters. With the ordering of the Colorado to San Francisco it will mean that three big ships will attend the opening of the exposition. The Oregon and the cruiser Marblehead will also be there.

hind schedule, and the Thomas L. Vand from the Columbia river is two days late.

The steamship Arline left San Francisco on Monday and was twelve hours making the first eighteen miles outside the Golden Gate. Today she put in at San Pedro, recording one of the longest trips on record for steamers to that port from here.

Shipping men said today that the ships had been buffeted by the storms, but that they did not fear particularly for their fate. Shipping assumed its regular pace today.

COLON DAMAGE ONE MILLION.

By Associated Press.

COLON, Feb. 10.—The damage wrought by the storm which began yesterday is estimated at nearly $1,000,000. Over half of the eastern breakwater in course of construction here has been destroyed. The waves are still rolling over the western breakwater, but the storm is now abating.

During the night the four-masted schooner Pendleton, with a cargo of piles, became waterlogged and was beached. The water front of the harbor is strewn with wreckage.

The storm was responsible for the death of two Indians. Six inches of rain fell. This is unprecedented for February, the driest month of the year.

R. R. TRAFFIC TIED UP.

OCEANO, Feb. 10.—Traffic between this point and Santa Barbara on the coast line of the Southern Pacific has been interrupted by the heaviest rain storm of the season. The Pacific Coast Railway has been forced to suspend service. Uncompleted work on the state highway suffered severely. Automobiles are mired at several points. The weather is now moderating.

primary grades. These girls dress in a scandalous manner. It is a positive disgrace. The way they dress would not be fitting in a ballroom, much less for a young girl at school.

"The beginning of tendencies which later result in downfall and distress. The parents of the children should make a rigid investigation of these conditions. The city officials cannot do anything. It is the mothers who must act."

Turner's comment followed a report made by Chief Pottinger that the clubwomen had visited the city jail after listening to reports as to conditions there made by Miss Winifred Bliss, who was incarcerated for several days, and by Mrs. Rosa Flori, who was held for nineteen hours in the city jail without any charge being placed against her, and who was finally charged with vagrancy, a charge which was hastily dismissed in the police court.

WANTED TO "CHECK UP."

"We wanted to check up and investigate whether these conditions were as reported," said Miss C. Anita Whitney. "The jail is very clean, especially the women's quarters."

"We feel that the women voters have a right to know how women are treated at the city jail."

Mrs. Flori, who has commenced suit for $55,000 against members of the police department for false imprisonment, came to the city hall with the women, but did not visit the jail. Among the women who accompanied Miss Whitney and Mrs. Flori were Mrs. Helen Swift Arledge, secretary of the Public Welfare League; Dr. Susan J. Fenner, president of the Child's Welfare League; Mrs. A. E. Carter, Mrs. John Murray, Mrs. Nellie Bullock, secretary of the West Oakland Business Men's and Taxpayers' Association; Mrs. Jessie Robinson and Mrs. L. H. Montgomery.

SOCIALISTS STILL OPPOSED TO WAR

Declaration by Party Leader
Brings Dispute in Prussian Diet.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, via London, 11:58 a. m., Feb. 10.—German Socialists, while not desirous of presenting any partisan issues or of taking any other action during the present crisis, which might militate against the harmonious co-operation of all parties, have surrendered none of their views. This is shown by the attitude of the Socialists members of the Prussian Diet, which began a session yesterday. Herr Hirsch, a Socialist delegate, read on behalf of his party a declaration which in part was as follows:

"The Social Democratic party maintains its opposition, based on principle, to the former government policy, which policy has remained in all material things unchanged. The party, however, refrains in this critical time from introducing discussions of a polemic nature into the consideration of the budget before its first reading."

Herr Hirsch added that his party later would call attention to complaints concerning the provisions for soldiers and for dependents, the food supply for the nation and restrictions on the free expression of thought. He could not permit the occasion to pass, he continued, without giving expression to the demand of his party that the government should concede the demand that the police cease their battle against the labor movement in general, and in particular against the Socialist organizations.

Herr Hirsch said that his party was opposed to political oppression, and that the basis of all political reforms must be their equal application to all minorities, as in the case of the Danes and Poles.

His party had hoped, Herr Hirsch continued, that the government would fulfill its duty by granting uniform suffrage, with the secret ballot. He mentioned the desire of the Social Democrats for an honorable peace, and continued:

PEOPLE WANT PEACE.

"We know that this war is desired by the people in none of the belligerent lands, that it is everywhere loathed by the people. We believe the confidence that the voters demanding peace will grow more numerous in all belligerent lands; will make themselves heard in influential quarters and that under the influence of the desire for peace, especially of the laboring classes of all lands, an assured peace may come speedily to the well-being of the German people and of all humanity."

Herr von Heydebrand, replying to Herr Hirsch on behalf of the non-Socialist parties, declared that the present moment was not a suitable one for advancing special wishes or complaints, but that the entire Prussian people should show itself united.

Herr Liebknecht interjected: "You have no right to speak in the name of the German people."

This remark brought forth cries of protest.

After the first reading of the Budget the Diet adjourned until February 15.

The Turks are said to have been unprepared for a bombardment, as they did not expect allied aircraft to venture so far inland.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The British government has arranged with the government of the United States to appoint quartermasters and paymasters in the American army to act as neutral wardens of prisoners of war in Germany. TAFT OBJECTS TO EMBARGO ON ARMS

Precedent Would Increase
Militarism and Injure
U. S., He Says.

By Associated Press.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 10.—William Howard Taft made public a letter yesterday that he wrote to the president of the National Association of Manufacturers, in which the former president opposes the enactment of a law forbidding the export of munitions of war from the United States to the belligerent nations.

The letter, which was not read at the meeting, is as follows: "My Dear Professor Von Mach: I have yours of January 24. I cannot write to a neutrality meeting such a letter as you would wish. I think that to interdict the supply of ammunition and arms from this country to the belligerents in the war would be to adopt a policy that would seriously interfere with our own welfare, should we ever be drawn into a war against our will by the unjust invasion of some power who was fully prepared, and who would always find us unprepared. Such a policy that you indicate would mean that the power who is armed cap-a-pie would always have at a disadvantage those countries that were not in such a state of preparation."

Sues and Alleges Undertakers' Trust

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Claiming that there exists in San Francisco an undertakers' trust and that it is operating in violation of the Cartwright law of 1912, Theodore Dierks filed suit for $10,000 damages in the superior court today. Dierks is a local funeral director and embalmer.

The complaint, which is a lengthy one, asserts that two articles and a by-law of the association are in violation of the anti-trust law wherein they provide that undertakers shall refuse to buy supplies from dealers who sell to the independent companies.

O'Donnell, cashier of the State Exchange bank here in the bank vault today and fled with $5000, captured within a few hours two miles out of town and the money was recovered. Engineers Report on South Jetty Damage

By Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 10.—Word received by the United States engineers' office here that the damage done to the south jetty at the mouth of the Columbia river during Monday night's storm shows that the jetty did not suffer to the extent that was first reported. The trouble above the rock fill was damaged, but this according to army engineers was of no value and had been abandoned for some time. The jetty itself, although the rocks settled appreciably at places, was not damaged. First reports said that a mile of the jetty had washed away.

Caught in Machine, Girl May Lose Hand

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Rose Bernard, an 18-year-old girl, living at 1246 McAllister street, may lose her right hand as the result of an accident. The young woman was working at her place when her right hand became caught in a mangle machine. The flesh was torn, crushed, and the surgeons carefully preserved every bit of the hanging flesh and sewed up the member, they are fearful that it cannot be saved.

Constantinople Is Goal of Russians

By Associated Press.
PETROGRAD, Feb. 10, 8:45 a. m.—Resolutions expressing the conviction that Russia would carry on the war until the peace of Europe is assured, were adopted by the Duma at the close of its sitting yesterday. The resolutions, which were adopted without a dissenting vote, said in part:

"The Duma expresses its firm conviction that the great national and liberating objects of the present war will be achieved and declares inflexible determination of the Russian nation to carry on the war until conditions shall have been imposed on the enemy assuring the peace of Europe and the restoration of right and justice."

GERMANS UNITED FOR "KING AND COUNTRY"

Markham Not to Be Visitor to Oakland

A reported visit of Edwin Markham, noted poet, was today denied by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce-Commercial Club, declared to have arranged such a visit. The club headquarters state that no arrangements have been made by the organization, and that no plans were laid for such a visit. Should Mr. Markham happen to be coming to Oakland, it is announced, the club will probably arrange to welcome him, but so far nothing has been heard of such a project.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 10, 4:50 p. m.—The American four-masted schooner Maria O. Teel, which sailed from Philadelphia December 22, for Porto Rico, has been lost at sea. A dispatch from Rio Janeiro today said that the British steamer Rio Colorado had arrived there, having on board the shipwrecked crew of the schooner.

OFFICIAL WAR STATEMENTS

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Feb. 10, 2:45 p. m.—The French report on the progress of the fighting during this afternoon reads as follows: "The day of February 9 saw virtually only artillery engagements along the front. At some places this fighting was fairly spirited, particularly on the Aisne and in the Champagne. Only one infantry engagement and this of little importance has been reported. It occurred in Lorraine to the northeast of Manonville, where one of our detachments drove back some outposts of the enemy on to the town of Jeleny."

ISOLATED FIGHTING.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Feb. 10, by wireless to London. The progress of the fighting during this afternoon reads as follows: "With the exception of minor successes for our troops in the Argonne and on the west slope of the Vosges, near Ban-de-Sapt, and in the Hirtzbach wood, there is nothing to report for the western theater of war. Isolated fighting on the east Prussian frontier developed at some points into greater engagements, which are progressing normally. On the right and left banks of the Vistula, the situation is unchanged."

DON'T TAKE CALOMEL

Instead of dangerous, salivating Calomel to liven your liver when bilious, headachy or constipated get a 10-cent box of Cascarets. They start the liver and bowels and straighten you up better than nasty Calomel, without griping or making you sick.—Adv.

White Man Lynched; Riddled With Bullets

MATFIELD, Ky., Feb. 10.—Thomas Tinker, white, who, it is charged, shot and killed constable Richard Tart, was taken from the county jail here late last night and lynched. His body was riddled with bullets. The lynching was done by fifty or more men, who rode in from the northern part of the county, where the shooting of the constable took place last Monday.

CARPATHIAN WARFARE EXTREMELY DIFFICULT

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, via The Hague and London, Feb. 10.—A description of conditions under the Carpathians is contained in a dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from the correspondent in the mountains who says: "Deep snow lies in the Carpathians and troop movements are confined to the cable paths. These marches are slow and laborious and very hard to capture. Under these circumstances the operations of the allied Austro-Hungarian and German troops are slowed up in spite of their greatest efforts. Successes which are achieved in turn by both sides have only local significance."

CAPITAL ELECTION OFFICERS ARE ACCUSED

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—Eight election board officials were indicted by the Sacramento county grand jury yesterday for alleged violations of the election laws at the November (1914) election. The officers, the grand jury asserts, are accused of fraudulently counting the ballots in three precincts and in placing illegal stamp marks opposite the names of favored candidates after the polls had closed, thereby adding materially to the vote of certain candidates.

GENERAL RHYNS PRYCE IS KILLED IN FRANCE

That General C. Pryce, leader of a troop of adventurous soldiers under the Mexican revolutionary banner in Mexico, has fallen at the battle of Oise in France, while fighting with a Canadian regiment, is news received in Oakland by friends of the noted soldier of fortune. He was to have been married after the war closed to a Vancouver woman. Years ago his career began in an Indian campaign. General Pryce was the son of a British army officer.

WILL ALAMEDA COUNTY KEEP PLEDGES MADE?

The greatest exposition ever held in the world. A city in itself, and no mean city at that, but a magnificent metropolis of minarets and domes, pagodas and campaniles, turrets and battlements, loggias and peristyles, amphiprostyles and pentastyles, a kaleidoscope of gold, silver, crystal, ruby and purple, a place both modern and antique, a domain where the architecture of the ages gone is mingled with the architecture of the present; a city of art and a city of nature; a city of shimmering lagoons and broad avenues, of beautiful vistas and inspiring surprises, a realm of verdure and flowers, a wonderland of wonderlands, mystifying, exquisite in every detail, splendid in its ensemble, precise in its arrangement and superb in its location along the shore of the channel connecting the great bay of San Francisco with the heaving Pacific through that portal of splendor known around the world as "The Golden Gate," is the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Nor is its excellence of building and its novelty of arrangement the only matters worthy of admiration. For here the history of days scarce remembered by any save scholars of high degree, and the history of the present will meet, are meeting. Hercules and Apollo face the heroes of our own days, Aphrodite and Diana smile across palm-bordered avenues at Balboa, while here and there satyrs grimace at modern beauty. Here will be collected the choice treasures of the Orient and of Gaul, of many lands beyond the seas rich in tradition. From the staffs on the various buildings will float banners of gold and crimson, of all the hues of the rainbow and during the time the great display is open to the public it will be the greatest cosmopolitan rallying place in all the world.

This exposition will be the greatest, grandest gem in the diadem worn by Queen California. It will be a credit to the people of this State who have so nobly responded to the requests for financial aid on its behalf. Five millions on behalf of the State at large, an equal sum from San Francisco, $6,500,000 by popular subscription, $2,250,000 by the various counties contributed through the medium of advertising funds, $18,750,000 in all, and some money from counties yet to be collected.

Yet in this great aggregate Alameda county plays no part.

This, too, when Alameda county is but a few minutes' ride to the water entrance of the great display that will open its gates on the twentieth of this month, with direct ferry service from shore to shore, placing it at our very feet, so to speak; this, too, when the cities and towns and rural communities of Alameda county expect to derive great profit as the result of the attendance of thousands who will visit it. This, too, when during the fight in Congress, when New Orleans and Louisiana were putting up such a strenuous battle against San Francisco and California, the fact that the commercial bodies of this county had pledged it would contribute a million cut such an important figure that those in charge attribute to such action the credit, in a large degree of turning the scale in favor of the Pacific Coast.

Small wonder that many papers in California are now pointing to Alameda county as a breaker of promises and have added to the prize slogan adopted for 1915:

Big show costs us not a cent—
We crawl in beneath the tent.

The people of Alameda county wanted an opportunity to vote on the pledge made on their behalf by the commercial bodies, and the supervisors have now called an election.

THE TRIBUNE is pleased that the people are to be given an opportunity to vote these bonds. It is glad the election is called at the earliest date practicable.

Remember, that $18,750,000 has been expended at your front door and you have not contributed one cent.

THE TRIBUNE is certain that the people of Alameda county do not want to be written down as welchers.

Villa Again Proclaims.

Villa has again proclaimed that he is the executive head of the Mexican government, if government it may be styled, and his official ukase has reached Washington.

Well, his action is a logical one in the light of events. Every time a Mexican officer in command of any considerable number of troops achieves a marked success he is in line for provisional president, and perhaps this former bandit is as much entitled to declare himself the executive as Carranza or anyone else.

In connection with Villa's actions it is noted that several American journals are alluding to him as "Mexico's strong man," by their utterances indicating that he is entitled to be considered the most available person for the place.

Nor are we prepared to dispute the claim. Murderer that he is, ignorant, brutal, selfish, uncompromising, he may be the right man for the place now that every soldier in Mexico is a creature of some self constituted commander, each bent on his own aggrandizement, no matter how many slain bodies he may walk over on the path toward success.

We have long since given up hope for Mexico. Until both sides are practically exterminated there will be little hope for peace. From reports received the struggle has ceased to be one for the establishment of good government, having degenerated into an effort on the part of the big fellow for power, authority and loot in which the men in the ranks expect to share proportionately with their positions. Inasmuch as the trend of sentiment in this country appears to be to let the factions fight it out without interference, why not give the matter no more attention and permit the Villas, Zapatas, Carranzas, Obregons and the balance to tear each other to pieces sans protest or verbal intervention?

It may be when the land shall have been entirely devastated and its best blood and its poorest absorbed by its thirsty soil that the remnants of the struggling armies now flying at each other's throats will be glad to welcome outsiders who will be willing to restore the country. So until that time why not say "Adios!" and pay no more attention to the strife or the men fomenting it. It may sound harsh, but a people that will stand for the conditions existing down in Mexico deserve nothing better.

What's the use of all this fuss over the flying of the American flag on the high seas by vessels of other countries? Such conduct as a ruse de guerre has been indulged in since flags first flew over ships. Our own brig Syren flew the flag of England when the Medway was pursuing it in an endeavor to escape capture, during the war of 1812, and other ships have been recorded as having resorted to the same deception. About the only protest with weight would be to direct attention to the fact that indiscriminate use of our flag might endanger neutral vessels, but so far as enforcing any order that is out of the question.

Because Billy Sunday is alleged by its membership to "make the church a target for cheap, uncharitable and unjust criticism and abuse, and because his methods are defined as irreverent and smack of a commercialism strangely out of keeping with the spirit of the gospel and his religion like smoke goes up in fanatical fervor," the Lutheran Conference of St. Louis has declined to join in a request to Sunday to hold services in that city.

STRUCKENBRUCK TO PRACTICE LAW.
Senator Struckenbruck, the village blacksmith of the community in which he lives, has sold his forge, bellows, anvil and hammers, together with the appurtenances, hereditaments and other things thereunto appertaining, and will engage in the practice of law, having formed connections with a firm in Sacramento and another in Stockton. The naughty meadowlarks had better behave in future or Struckenbruck will get after them with an injunction.

WHY NOT "GAD" THE GADDERS?
Commenting on the action taken by the metropolis of Southern California, the Martinez Standard indulges in the following: "Los Angeles police authorities, aroused by crimes and moral delinquency among that city's juveniles, have established a curfew rule, under which youths under 17, unless accompanied by parents or guardian, must get off the streets at 9 p. m. It might be well also to have a curfew for gadabout parents to compel them to stay at home at night occasionally, to keep their children company. The child oftentimes gets its gadding influence from the seldom-at-home parents."

FIRST AID TO BEAUTY SEEKERS.
The poet of the Cincinnati Enquirer started it by inditing the following:
All women who are pampered pets
To grasp this moral should not fail:
Good curves are more than coronets,
And corn-fed shapes than Madame Kale.
The rhymester of the Memphis Commercial-Appeal saw it and immediately made love to his muse, with the following result:
Also those female pampered pets
Should grasp this moral without fail:
Pink cheeks that outshine coronets
Are not supplied by Madame Kale.
Of course we could not let the opportunity go by, so here you are:
Those women who are pampered pets
Should grasp this moral without fail:
All things that discount coronets
Are bought—with what?—why, good old Kale.

PLANS TO BEAT OREGON LAW.
Oregon's legislature, having adopted the prohibition bill which permits importation for the use of individual households of not more than two quarts of spirituous liquors, or twenty-four quarts of beer monthly, it is announced that a number of households in the webfoot state are contemplating dividing up.

HOW CONDITIONS HAVE CHANGED.
Someone once put the following on paper:
Wherever God erects a house of prayer,
The devil always builds a chapel there;
And 'twill be found upon examination
The latter always has the largest congregation.
But it is related that since the Le Protti saloon transfer came before the council, the proprietor of that bone of contention has amended the verse to read:
Lo, the saloon man, many woes befide him,
They constantly build new schools beside him;
And when he has to find a new location,
Protests galore are sure his aggravation.

DODGING BEATEN PATH.
Congressman Robert L. Dougherty, of North Carolina, smiled when the conversation turned to reversing the order of things. He said he was reminded of the case of Bowers.
Bowers met a benevolent party on a railroad train one day, and as the acquaintance ripened a tilt, he began to spread before the other the history of his life.
"When I was a clerk in a grocery store," remarked Bowers, among other things, "I received only $3 a week, and like many other young men, I fell in with bad companions and began to gamble."
"I see," interrupted the benevolent party sadly, "you were tempted and took money which did not belong to you."
"Oh, no," cheerily responded Bowers. "In less than a month I won enough money to buy the grocery."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

BOY WHO CAN DREAM.
It is a good thing for the farmer boy to have an imagination. It is a good thing for him to "dream dreams and see visions." It takes a dreamer to see the transformation that intelligent effort will bring to pass on the old place. It takes a dreamer to see how much more desirable that place will be in ten years than a job in a dry goods store. It is the boy who dreams who sees a field of thrifty alfalfa where that stunted yellow corn is growing on the clay 40. It is the boy who dreams who sees those hungry-looking crows with burrs in their tails replaced by a herd of dairy maidens that tax the capacity of the milk cans at every milking. It is the boy who dreams who sees a waving corn field where the ragweeds are growing, who sees woven wire fences in place of the old hedge and a new barn where the cow shed is falling to pieces. We need more dreamers on the farm.—Hiawatha Democrat.

HONESTY IN POSTOFFICE.
As the world goes virtue must be exceptional to attract recognition, but some everyday, routine, faithful performance deserves attention, even if it could not qualify under the Carnegie hero rules because it is only in line with duty.
The record of the postoffice department for the past year shows that there were 108,000,000 money orders handled last year, in 55,000 postoffices, involving a total sum of $750,000,000. The total losses due to erroneous payments, forgeries, or errors of any sort were $253.

JOHN D. AND MOTHER JONES

There are many who will look upon the conference between "Mother" Jones and John D. Rockefeller Jr. as a spectacular movement, brought about for the purpose of publicity only, and there are others who will say that the "Mother" Jones engaged in by both parties were mere nothing, leading to nothing. That is not true, says the Buffalo News.
"Mother" Jones has made repeated attempts to secure an interview, not only with Mr. Rockefeller, but with others of his class. Hereafter she has been looked upon as an unreasonable agitator by certain individuals, and it was generally believed that she deserved no consideration. On the other hand, there are many of the "Mother" Jones type who have looked upon the captains of industry and capitalists in general as being equally unreasonable. To this class a conference has been out of the question, and "a fight to the finish" has been the only matter under consideration. The split separating the two classes was believed to have been so wide that mediation was not even suggested as a possibility.
The news reports of "Mother" Jones' visit to Mr. Rockefeller's office state that she left the office smiling, admitting that she had made a great mistake.
What this mistake was, we do not know, but in all probability "Mother" Jones did make a mistake of some kind, being human. On the other hand, it is very probable that Mr. Rockefeller has made mistakes also. Had the conference never taken place both sides would feel that no mistake had been made and the differences between capital and labor would have remained the same, in this instance at least.
"Mother" Jones and Mr. Rockefeller represent, respectively, the two extremes in our present social and economic system. It makes little difference what the result of the first conference between them is to be; the most important fact is that the two extremes have met and in that meeting there is hope for each a new vista. It is safe to say that more conferences will follow, and, hereafter, it may be possible for labor and capital to meet upon a more amicable and equal basis. "Mother" Jones and Mr. Rockefeller have broken down one of the great obstacles to a satisfactory solution of the labor problem by getting better acquainted.

ADVICE TO KNOCKERS

If you live in a town you should believe in it. If you don't believe your own town or city is a little better in most respects than any of its neighbors, you should move out. Like other places, it has advantages that others have not, and your modesty should not prevent you from making that fact known whenever the opportunity presents itself. At home or abroad, whether pursuing pleasure or engaged in business, do not neglect to give those you come in contact with to understand that you live in a town populated by interesting, wide-awake, go-ahead people and one that is advancing instead of retrograding.
If you can truthfully speak in commendation of the ability of your professional men, the square dealing methods of your business men, the excellence of your mechanics, the superiority of your churches, schools and public institutions and industry, energy and sobriety of your citizens, let nothing prevent you from exercising that privilege. You should learn to believe, if you do not already, that we have all these and in addition the best located town, the finest country surrounding it, with the most intelligent class of people to be found.
If there are any drawbacks it will not be necessary to mention them. The people and newspapers of competing towns will relieve you of that task by attending to that part of it themselves. Strangers seeking locations are always greatly influenced in favor of any town whose citizens are enthusiastic in their praise of it. No city or town expects to attain prominence over its rivals unless its inhabitants appreciate excellence and virtues of each other and will collectively spread abroad their faith in the present prosperity and future greatness of their locality. Talk is a cheap commodity, but when rightly utilized, it can be made effective in many directions and this is one of them.—L'Anse, Mich., Sentinel.

BUTCHER'S WIDE FIELD

A story concerning a butcher, a groceryman, a hole in the wall and a question engaged the attention of Judge Shenk yesterday. The butcher is V. J. Jokester, the grocerywoman is Mrs. E. Frothing, the hole in the wall was an arrangement for the convenience of the butcher and the grocerywoman using the telephone and interchanging small gossip, and the question was "Can a butcher shop be a daguerstypen store?"
There seemed to be sufficient material in Mrs. Frothing's suit against Mr. Jokester to bewilder any judge, but the court was concerned only in the lease whereby Mr. Jokester was to sell meat and Mrs. Frothing groceries.
The court consulted Webster's and found that meat is food. Hence, a butcher can sell anything eaten, whether by man or animal. The court granted a temporary injunction, and fixed the bond of $500 for the trial of the case on its merits.

SCHOOLS' BAND TO GIVE BIG CONCERT

Oakland Elementary Musical Organizations Will Perform for Uniform Benefit.

The Elementary school band and orchestra of the Oakland public schools will give a concert this evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Hotel Oakland for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of uniforms. The Oakland public schools have received an official invitation to participate in the demonstration of public school music by giving a series of orchestral and choral concerts and the exhibition, and in order that the Elementary Schools band may appear well before the public, it is a quite necessary that they wear a uniform. The Board of Education feels that the public spirited citizens will assist in this endeavor, and that the school band that it may take its place among the many contestants at the Fair with proper dignity and appearance.

There are now twenty-nine bands and twenty-nine orchestras in the entire school system of Oakland, equipped better than most of the public schools of any city in the United States in that it carries what is generally known as the complete fourteen "symphonic" orchestra. This was made possible by the purchase of the instruments by the Board of Education when the school music system was bought, and the classes are divided into three divisions, namely: the elementary, high school and community. The first department is composed of the children in the lower grades. By the time this class has been graduated into the high school, their music credits take them into the higher music work, and when they have finished school, the Community Orchestra, composed of advanced musicians in the city who care for study, and High School students, is ready to receive them.

PRODIGES DEVELOPED.

As an illustration of what is being done in the school, Charles Smith, who will play the bassoon solo tonight, is in the seventh grade, and has been working upon this seldom-heard instrument only since August. Russell Brown, who will play a solo on the French horn, is but 14 years of age, and is a little girl of only 7 years of age, but is early showing great talent for things which are usually reserved for older children. It is an illustration of the unusual talent to develop it were it not for the advantages provided by the public schools. There is especially so among the children of the Latin blood.

The members of the elementary schools orchestra and their instruments are as follows:

MOTORMAN HELD LIABLE FOR A. E. ZEH'S DEATH

Following an inquest into the cause of the death of Amos E. Zehr, 107 Sunny-side avenue, by the coroner's jury last night, a verdict declaring that Motorman Theodore of the Halcat Street electric line in San Francisco was responsible for the death, was brought in. Zehr was a passenger on the Halcat street car which was run into by a Fillmore car in San Francisco, January 27. His injuries were at first not thought to be serious, but after being removed to his home in Oakland he became worse, and died a few days ago. Motorman Charles Chama of the Fillmore street car was exonerated from blame in the matter, as his car had the right of way at the crossing.

The coroner's jury held the engine crew of the Southern Pacific train which ran down Manuel Lette, address not known to the authorities, Thursday night, as culpable in connection with the death of the man. Lette was walking on the tracks when he was run down and killed.

William T. Patten, 74 years of age, who was struck by a Santa Fe train at Fort-tenth and Adeline streets, died of his injuries at the Folsom hospital last night. The body was removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held. Patten was a widower and lived with his son John H. Patten, 720 Fourth street.

BURGLAR CARRIES CAMERA NEXT DOOR

He Takes Stolen Object to Next Victim's, and There He Leaves It.

The burglar who has been breaking into numerous homes in Oakland by smashing in rear doors with an ax or hatchet, broke into two residences on Thirty-eighth avenue last night. A camera, which he stole from the home of Mrs. F. M. Johnson, 2491 Thirty-eighth avenue, was left by the burglar at the home of Mrs. R. Jackson, 2323 Thirty-eighth avenue, which he visited later in the evening. The burglar had apparently decided that the camera was not worth carrying through the streets on the chance that he would be stopped and questioned.

The burglar has been sought by the Oakland police for several weeks. They are puzzled as to how he disposed of his loot. The police believe that several burglaries have been committed by the same man, as the method employed is the same in each instance. The burglar first ascertains that the family is not at home, obtains a hatchet or ax in the rear yard and smashes in the rear door. A hasty search is made for cash and jewelry and he then escapes.

The burglar obtained jewelry valued at $75 and a few dollars in silver at the home of Mrs. Johnson. He stole a gold watch and some other jewelry at Mrs. Jackson's home but apparently left the place hastily as he overlooked considerable jewelry.

A report was made that $187 has been expended in benefits in the past year. The balance in the fund amounts to $12,112.52. The directors elected are F. J. Brunjes, Chief Nicholas A. Ball, Assistant Chief Sam Short, D. J. Barr, M. J. Halpin, G. W. Maller and W. J. Wilkinson.

Is a day of irrepressible coolery not far distant?

Postponing the day when the cooks of tasteless and indigestible food will be sentenced to social death as murderers of the human race and physiological defects, nearly two hundred women gathered in Scottish Rite hall, Fifteenth and Madison streets, in spite of the storm yesterday, to hear Mrs. Kate Vaughn's instructive cooking lesson.

There were young mothers with large hats and small, discolored babies. There were young girls intent upon culinary secrets. There were older women, anxious to learn why their husbands and sons prefer eating downtown to swallow home cooking. There were women, old and young, alive to the importance of dietetics, and eager to lift their kitchens, and their home lives to a higher plane. During the lecture they whispered to themselves: "One or two teaspoonsful" or inquired, "do you oil the pans or flour them? Can you flour an agate pan? What kind of coloring do you use?"

Mrs. Kate Vaughn answered, looking very neat, standing in the model kitchen elevated on the platform. She might displease the person who can't by force of habit keep clean. But she glorifies domestic care to a youthful imagination. She repudiates "greasy domesticity." She believes an ad cook, provided she is gifted with divine inspiration and the will to learn, may be converted into a food artist. Her theory is as scientific as Spencer, and as infallible as mathematics, she says.

ATTRACTIVE CONDITIONS.

She appeared in all the alluring freshness of immaculate white linen behind an array of dazzling dainties and aluminum, of agate and eggs pyramided in vivid blue bowls. Everything was scientific and spotless, bright and remote from the sordid den of a kitchen, sometimes it is. It was as orderly as an operating room in a hospital. On Mrs. Vaughn's right stood a white enameled gas range. On the left was a refrigerator, back of her, a cabinet with gay rows of spices and flavors and dusty paprika in boxes and bottles.

In an even fresco at the back, above the wainscoting, ran a line of charts mysteriously patterned in red and green, and looking extremely scientific. In front of the table hung more charts with comparative budgets of the equipment of the carpenter and the carpenter's wives. The perfection of the model kitchen might well have terrified the spirit of any incompetent housekeeper had it not been for Mrs. Vaughn.

Whether it is her soft and slightly trailing southern voice, or the winsomeness of her brown eyes, or because of her ideas of the importance of women she fails to be alarming. Because she is a born teacher, with the genius for imparting what she knows, Tennessee sent her on expeditions to teach the farmers wives throughout the state how to make good butter and delectable pastry.

"NASCUTUR ET FIT."
Mrs. Vaughn believes that though good cooks are frequently and undeniably born, they may also be made. Genius in the kitchen, as with sculpture, is a matter of infinite pains directed by knowledge. "I know," she said, "by my own experience. I have had to learn many things myself."

Maternal responsibilities started her career. One of her children was in ill health, due, she afterwards discovered, to a tubercular condition. A dentist who had been studying dietetics pointed out to her that the child suffered from lack of proper food. In doing her husband's knowledge, she set to work, studied the scientific side of food, and saved him. "Today," she said, "he is a boy of unusual mental aptitude, and in normal health."

On the heels of this new knowledge came the necessity to earn a living. She began teaching home economics in the elementary grades of the Nashville schools. Then the scope of her work broadened. She was sent out through the state organizing rural school improvement associations—associations somewhat similar to the parent-teacher's associations of the city.

That spring she worked for the tenets clubs. These are Tennessee clubs in which girls are taught the resources of the farm by research work. Each club is given a number of acres, one on which to raise tomatoes that she afterwards, and to every girl accomplishing a certain amount, the United States pays a "bonus." Following her season with these clubs, Mrs. Vaughn was sent out by the state with a demonstration train to the farmers' wives.

TEACHING FARMERS.

The farmers' wife had been doing things in the same way for generations. She didn't know why her butter was firm one time and poor another. She didn't know the proper conditions under which food kept, or the why of anything. She didn't know, often, how to make good, digestible bread. Mrs. Vaughn's mission was to teach her these things.

Since then, for five years, she has been teaching the women of America home economics. This is her second trip to the Pacific coast. Brides come to her lectures and professional cooks, the mistresses of establishments, society women and clubwomen, doctors and mothers, anxious to know what is wrong with their children's appetites. People come and bring their cooks. Some come for advice on economical division of their incomes. They bring specimens of their cuisine to discover what is wrong. They inquire about the latest in kitchen equipment and technique.

Mrs. Vaughn describes why a cake splits on top, or why it bakes on one side of the pan, why it is too coarse or too fine. She makes a baked one. It cooks perfectly before your eyes and then samples are passed through the audience by colored maids. Over the tops of these miracles of frosting and icing are scattered. Yesterday there were sweet peas. Today daffodils and violets. It doesn't require genius, she says.

What she mainly emphasizes is the dignity and value of women, the woman who runs a house. If a man's house is well-kept and his children are neat, on a small salary, he is sure to take all the credit to himself, she says. That, Mrs. Vaughn thinks, is the nature of man, and must be expected. His real value, she assures the women who came to hear her, is very small compared with that of his wife, provided she is competent, the intelligent spender of his income.

ADVICE SHE GIVES.

"My sympathies are with the little discouraged woman who has come to feel very unimportant in the household scheme beside her complacent husband. If she will really realize her usefulness, she has seen, and how useful she is going to be, they would both be much happier. And I think everyone was meant to be happy in this world, everybody."

"Home-keeping requires more concentration and more talent than stenography or the law, or almost any other profession I know of. And it is on the home that most of the happiness of the world is founded. Women are, as a rule, willing to expend anything but brains in the kitchen. They flounder about, losing the sweetness of life while getting bitter experience."

Mrs. Vaughn would have them all equipped from the beginning, efficient and cool empresses of the kitchen it need be, able to keep within stated incomes, to conquer butchers and dealers by a superior knowledge of joints and brands. They are to know the meal days in advance instead of waiting until they start into the pantry and discover that there isn't enough of anything. Temper and time of youth and charm are to be saved in the process, and the world is to rise to an entirely different plane, unhampered by dyspepsia, mal-nutrition and grime.

"My thoughts are all with women," she says. Men are to profit by marvelous food, however, so they are not entirely neglected.

ASPARAGUS WITH CHICKEN.

Mrs. Vaughn made very delicious chicken croquettes out of the chicken roasted in the fireless cooker yesterday. As a vegetable suggestion to be served with the chicken croquettes, she creamed asparagus. Another delicious suggestion for serving in-betweeners, an attractive manner, was the salad made from cold macaroni and the boiled dressing was interesting to many. Mrs. Vaughn showed how this could be made and kept for an indefinite period, thus obviating the necessity of making a salad dressing every day. Many of Mrs. Vaughn's cooking suggestions are of this same nature. In that they show how a woman may have just as enjoyable meals and yet not spend so much time in their preparation. Mrs. Vaughn is a southern woman and takes pride in the compliment that she is passed at all times of her southern dishes. Many women thanked her for the hints given in regard to making a successful marsh-mallow roll, very much the same as a jelly roll is made, and her method of rolling it in a damp towel was a suggestion, thankfully received.

At the fourth session of THE TRIBUNE Home Economics School tomorrow, Mrs. Vaughn will talk on "Digestion and Well-Balanced Menus." This is one of her very best lectures and she will give to the women who hear her considerable assistance in the difficult matter of planning varied and well-balanced meals. She will show how to prepare a planked steak which is one of the most beautiful dishes imaginable and will suggest various vegetables to be served with this steak. She will give an interesting and instructive lesson on how to make good rolled bread and her nice baking lesson for today will be how to make a cake without butter, eggs, milk or fire.

There are but three more sessions of THE TRIBUNE Home Economics Course and every woman in the city who is interested in making and caring for a home should attend these sessions.

Mrs. Vaughn's recipes for today are:

CUCUMBER SALAD IN GREEN PEPPERS.

Peel and chop two cucumbers. One-half tablespoon salt; drain. Add half teaspoonful onion juice. Two cups celery. Half cupful broken pecans. Mix with boiled dressing. Put green pepper shells. Put spoonful dressing on top and serve on lettuce leaf.

RICE PUDDING.
Boil one cupful rice in one-quart milk. Add half cupful sugar, half teaspoonful salt and just before removing from range add one tablespoonful gelatine softened in one-third cupful milk. Add one-half cupful of raisins and nuts, or any candied fruit preferred. Place in crisped mold and when very cold, turn out and serve with whipped cream and currant jelly, or boiled custard.

BABAS.

Half cupful warm milk. One-fourth cupful sugar. One-fourth cupful butter and allow to melt until very liquid. Cut down and add one-third cupful sugar, two cups flour and half cupful cream. Beat one egg. One cupful creamed cheese. Beat well and add two cupfuls flour. Beat well and add two cupfuls flour. Bake 45 minutes in moderate oven and while hot cover with following glaze.

Three-quarter cupful confectioner sugar. 15 tablespoonful hot water. Place in double boiler and allow to become liquid.

Flavor with coffee or cinnamon and pour over Babas or Coffee Cake.

MACARONI SALAD.

1/2 package macaroni, cooked and drained.
1 cupful cabbage shredded.
1 cupful celery.
2 sweet green peppers.
2 pinches of salt.
Marinate macaroni with boiled dressing. Just before serving, combine the vegetables and garnish with boiled dressing.

BOILED DRESSING.

Talks of ten eggs, or robs of four eggs may be used, in which case add one tablespoonful flour to dry ingredients.
1 teaspoonful prepared mustard.
1 teaspoonful salt.
1 teaspoonful celery seed.
1-3 cupful crisco (melted).
1/2 teaspoonful white pepper.
Dash cayenne.
1/2 cupful sugar.

Beat yolks very light. Add sugar and other dry ingredients. Pour melted crisco in last, beating well. Have boiling in double boiler one cupful milk white vinegar. Pour egg mixture into boiling vinegar.

The fortunate student of Home Economics who bore home a cake from Mrs. Kate Vaughn's lecture and demonstration yesterday was Mrs. W. E. Hicks of 1545 Alce street. The cake was a highly ornamental specimen of what may be accomplished by scientific application of the principles of cookery.

TO MAKE ECONOMICAL LAUNDRY SOAP.

Thoroughly dissolve four table-spoonfuls of TWENTY MULE TEAM BORAX SOAP CHIPS in about two quarts of boiling water. When cool, this will form a soft soap which can be used as desired and will be found more economical than using the soap without dissolving.

There is nothing in these CHIPS but pure soap perfectly blended with pure Borax in the correct proportions for perfect cleaning.

TWENTY MULE TEAM BORAX SOAP CHIPS will not only make washing easier and the clothes whiter, but will hygienically clean them; as is well known, BORAX purifies as well as cleanses them. It will also be found that the clothes take the starch much better and that there is no STICKING TO THE IRON. The clothes will iron smooth and white.—Adv.

The "three vitriols" are: Green vitriol (sulphate of iron), blue vitriol (sulphate of copper, and white vitriol (sulphate of zinc).

RUN DOWN BY AUTO. WOMAN IS INJURED

While attempting to cross Broadway at Twentieth street last night, Mrs. J. R. Cholar, 2044 Franklin street, was run down by an automobile driven by Irvine Hinchelme, 1021 Filbert street. Mrs. Cholar was knocked to the pavement and sustained a fracture of the right arm and other injuries. Hinchelme offered to take her to the hospital, but she asked to be removed to her home. She was taken home and Dr. J. H. Pond was summoned to attend her.

Two automobile and street car collisions occurred last night, but no one was injured in either case. The automobile driven by E. Scott, 1454 One Hundred and Fifth avenue, struck a Telegraph avenue car at Fourteenth and Broadway, and was slightly damaged. An automobile driven by S. P. Cashing, 65 San Pablo avenue, was struck by a street car at Seventh and San Pablo and damaged.

Globe "A1" Flour is made from the best wheat, under most cleanly conditions. The wheat chosen for this flour is a carefully selected blend of Eastern hard wheat and the finest grades of Pacific Coast wheats.

After you have tried Globe "A1" you will know why housewives insist on getting that brand. It is just a little different—better than the average flour. There's more substance to it. It makes better bread, and more of it. Globe "A1" is unexcelled for all uses—bread, cakes, pies, etc.

Five mills are now producing this flour, and the demand for it is steadily growing.

AUTO HITS TRUCK, DRIVER INJURED

Deputy Coroner of Contra Costa County Meets With Accident.

BERKELEY, Feb. 10.—By a marauding Port Curry, deputy coroner of Contra Costa county, missed serious injury last evening when he drove his automobile into a pile of debris on University avenue at Washington street. SECOND CUNARDE.
FLIES U. S. FLAG

Neutral Banner at Ordnance
Masthead While Liner Crosses
Irish Sea

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Passengers on the Cunard line British steamer, Orduna, which arrived here today from England, said that the steamer Bew the American flag for no reason on January 21, while passing through the Irish sea. The Stars and Stripes, they said, were hoisted on Sunday about an hour after the Orduna left Liverpool and not hauled down until early Monday morning.

The Orduna was in port from Liverpool Sunday, January 30, but did not depart until 10:20 the next morning. Passengers heard that the reason for the delay was that the German submarine was hovering in the vicinity. The American flag was raised, they said shortly after the Orduna cleared the Mersey.

The explanation which the passengers heard was that some of the officers of the Orduna's under officers was that the American flag had been raised for the purpose of protecting the American citizens among the 246 passengers.

Charles Thomas Taylor, commander of the Orduna, said that he was the master, saying he was under orders from the British admiralty not to talk.

Charles P. Sumner, general agent of the line in this city, denied today that the Orduna had flown the American flag and that the vessel was a ship which he explained is customarily a flying ship to indicate the country to which the vessel is bound. Several passengers insisted, however, that the flag was flying aloft, indicating the nationality of the vessel.

REPORT GREATS INTEREST.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. — Reports that the Orduna had flown the Lusitanian's colors, and that she was under the American flag, commands a deep interest at the State Department today and recalled the recent charge of the German foreign office that it had issued an order that the British admiralty had issued an order for British ships to use neutral colors.

That representations would be made to Great Britain indicating the danger to neutral shipping if belligerent ships use neutral colors, is now regarded as certain, although they will not be in the nature of a protest.

APPEAL TO BRYAN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Norvin L. Lindheim and Charles A. Towne, representing the owners of the steamer Wilhelmina's cargo, called at the State Department yesterday and had a long conference with Secretary Bryan.

Director Johnson. It was understood they would have the department seek a speedy determination of the question whether or not Great Britain has the right, under international law, to prevent ships flying the American flag from entering German ports with food for the civilian population.

DIRECTORS OF REALTY ASS'N TO HOLD MEETING

Details of the first month of work under the new board of directors will be reported at tomorrow at the first luncheon of the Oakland Realty Association to be held at the Hotel Oakland. The meeting, which will be the most important of the present year, will be held on the mezzanine floor and plans will be outlined for several new developments in the organization.

The speaker of the day will be Dr. Thomas Forsyth Hunt, dean of the Agricultural College, University of California, who will speak on "The Relation of the Interior to the City." He will tell you of the connection between big farming communities and large cities and will discuss basic principles behind the realty business.

HONG KONG SENDS CABLE ORDER TO OAKLAND FIRM

Oakland now sells factory products via the cable. Hong Kong became an Oakland buyer today when an order was received by cable to a local supplier ordering a $1000 shipment of automobile tire treads from a local leather works. The order, one of the largest cabled purchases ever made in the east bay region, attracted some attention in the industrial bureaus of the Chamber of Commerce-Commercial Club. V. K. Stargos, who received the order, declares that he will plan a "sockle selling campaign" for Oakland's factories at once.

SIXTH RIFLE SHOOT HELD.
BERKUNLY, Feb. 10. — The rifle team of the University of California made a score of 950 out of a possible 1000 in the sixth match of the intercollegiate shoot against Washington State college.

The score of the rival university has not been determined but from the score made by the California team, a record will be set if the Washington team exceeds the local score by any great margin.

Five more matches remain to be held and then the intercollegiate records will be published.

LYRIC SOPRANO TO APPEAR
RAINOLDI AT MACDONOUGH

SARANE RAINOLDI, LYRIC SOPRANO, WITH NATIONAL GRAND OPERA COMPANY AT MACDONOUGH THEATRE.

Cavalier Eugenio Guerrieri, director of the National Grand Opera company, which will open its Northern California tour at the Macdonough theatre February 11, the season continuing at that house for three nights and Saturday matinee, is one of the most famous of Italian operatic conductors. The cavalier has a repertoire of some forty operas and invariably directs without a score. The prodigious feat of memory necessary to this accomplishment is so great that it can be fully appreciated only by the trained musician. With the National

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY
ENTERTAINS GUESTS

Last Saturday evening the members of the Oakland St. Andrew's Society were entertained at the home of James P. Taylor and his sister, Miss Grace L. Trevor, 442 Twenty-eighth street. Practically it was a so-called party, but the evening was devoted to the entertainment of the guests, assisted by Mrs. Dr. A. K. Crawford, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. Fredericks and other ladies.

The gathering developed later into something of the nature of a birthday celebration of the host and the present of the St. Andrew's Society. J. A. C. Macdonald, the former having passed his latest life's mile stone a week or ten days ago and the latter struck his on that particular day.

It was an evening of unalloyed pleasure. Approximately forty members of the society were present. The earlier part of the evening resolved itself into a card (six-handed euchre) party for which the host had provided one prize for the lucky member drawing the highest card in the winning team and another for the "booby," who accomplished the same feat in the losing team. Dr. Edward Collins drew the former and Andrew Dalziel came out of the competition as the "booby" prize winner. But there was no invidious discrimination shown in the prizes awarded, in which the host evinced exceptional good taste.

The rest of the evening was devoted to the singing of patriotic songs by Dr. A. K. Crawford, George Hall, William Moir, Robert Howden and Mr. Anderson. The latter, in a most graceful manner, presented the Light Brigade by Dr. Crawford, the presentation by President J. A. C. Macdonald, in a modest but happily worded speech of a testimonial from the society to Mr. Taylor, as an appreciation of the services he has rendered in the past, and brief speeches by Rev. A. Allen, chaplain of the society, James P. Taylor and Dr. Edward Collins.

The party closed the proceedings by the singing of an original poem written by Andrew Dalziel, specially dedicated to the host, to the air of "Auld Lang Syne."

RETAINS SEAT.
SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 10.—Representative Warnick, Republican of Utah county, whose seat has been in question ever since the house organized, retained his seat by a vote of 23 to 22. One Republican voted against him and two Progressives voted for him. Warnick was a member of the Idaho legislature two years ago, and the deadlock which existed here for a week when the house first met rested largely on the challenge of Warnick's right to serve in Utah. The attorney general gave the house his opinion that Warnick was not entitled to serve.

RAILROAD LAWYER DIES.
ST. ALBANS, Vt., Feb. 10.—Chester Witters, vice-president of the Central Vermont railroad and for many years its attorney died of pneumonia yesterday. He was 70 years old.

MASTER PLUMBERS FILE
MOTION IN U. S. COURT

DES MOINES, Feb. 10.—Attorneys for the 26 master plumbers from six middle west states who are under indictment here for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, filed a motion yesterday in the United States court asking that the government be requested to file a bill of particulars in the case.

Owing to the illness of Judge Arba S. Van Valkenburgh of the United States District Court for the district of Kansas, C. Pollock of the district of Kansas will probably conduct the trial. It was said at the district attorney's office that the case will not be reached before Thursday.

BIG FOREIGN TRADE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Foreign trade for the week ended February 8, as reported to the Department of Commerce yesterday by the thirteen principal custom ports, showed a balance of $37,134,276 in favor of the United States, the largest weekly balance on record. The exports for the week were $59,581,105 and imports $22,446,830.

EAT LESS MEAT
IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys
if bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys; they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

No damage done by the storm

That is, the damage was so slight that there will be no sale. It was reported, however, that the damage was considerable. This was a mistake.

Many people have been coming in asking when we were going to have a sale on the goods damaged by the storm, which was erroneously stated to be $5000. Only the walls in our ladies' rest room and some of our offices were drenched—not enough to consider. Our policy has always been never to exaggerate or take any unwarranted advantage to promote sales. There was no damage to the stock. Therefore there will be no sale.

Bright cheerful patterns. There is an advantage in buying linoleum 4 yards wide, as it will cover a room twelve feet wide without a seam; it wears longer as linoleum always gives out along the seams; furthermore it looks better when all in one piece. We roll them out on the floor in the piece.

FAMINE FACED BY
800,000 SERBIANS

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Famine faces war-swept Serbia unless the people can obtain grain for seed in the spring and farm tools to work with, according to a statement issued last night by a committee newly organized to seek aid in this country for destitute Serbian women and children.

Eight hundred thousand inhabitants will starve if these things cannot be secured, the committee affirmed. In six of the most fertile districts of Serbia, 50 per cent of the children now are dying from lack of nourishment and medicine, from cold and exposure.

"All of the able-bodied men of Serbia are at the front," said the statement. "The women and children must plant and cultivate the crops in the spring, or there will be no grain on which the nation can live next winter. But now the farms are devastated, buildings and implements burned and livestock destroyed. Under these conditions, a famine is inevitable." The committee gave out an excerpt from a recent statement by the director of the Serbian church which said:

"Today one-third of the population is destitute of everything. Since the beginning of the war, when their lands were turned into battlefields, they have endured terrible privations. The mothers, and fathers and the children of the million Serbians are suffering. In the invaded villages, everything has been pillaged and destroyed, and when the unfortunate refugees return to their homes they will, in the majority of cases, find neither house nor food."

WIDOWS OUTWED MAIDS,
BUT WIDOWS? NOT SO

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Nothing could be more cheering than the analysis of California's marriage statistics for 1914, as issued yesterday by the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

That the elder woman's admonition to her son, "Revere the spiced Samvel," has not lost its spice becomes evident when the bureau's figures are studied from the "widows' point of view. Thus, 370 widows—that variety commonly known as "grass" included—were captured and led to the altar 570 bridegrooms never before broken to double harness. Yet only 254 maiden brides succeeded in captivating 254 widowers and divorced men.

But from their point of view, the widows before fellows can find cause for rejoicing in the bureau's figures because of the showing that only 254 of their kind fell for the blushing-bride suit a second time.

As for the dear girls they have the most satisfactory figures of all to contemplate in the 22,747 weddings between first-timers on each side.

HUNTERS FACE CHARGES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Two informations charging two men with violation of the law with misdemeanor for violation of a disputed federal game law, were issued yesterday at the office of the United States Attorney in San Francisco. The accused men, G. M. Elliott and Mina Spurgeon, were apprehended by Federal Game Warden J. F. Inman of Sacramento, who seized a number of wild geese which the pair had shot. The hunters were released temporarily because of the present status of the law, which, decided by the constitutional by the United States District Court in North Dakota, and unconstitutional by the court of Arkansas, now is before the United States Supreme Court for adjudication.

EMPLOYEES REJECT OFFER.
By Associated Press.
ROOSEVELT, N. J., Feb. 10.—The striking employees of two of the American Agricultural Chemical Company plants have rejected unanimously for the second time an offer of $1.50 for a ten-hour day. They walked out early in January after their $2-a-day wage was reduced to $1.50.

Keep Your Lungs Strong
This advice is doubly important with the knowledge that every three minutes some one in the United States succumbs to consumption and many refuse to realize they are afflicted until it is too late. It is after colds or sickness, from overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists that tubercular germs thrive because the resistive powers of the body are weakened. Only with fresh air, sunshine and abundant rich blood can one hope to arrest their progress, and the concentrated fats in Scott's Emulsion furnish food for rich blood, and its rare nourishment helps strengthen the lungs while it builds up the forces. If you work indoors, the easily, feel languid or run-down Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known and is free from alcohol or stupefying drugs. Avoid substitutes.

WAR CODES JAM
WIRELESS STATIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—From out beyond the heads, through the whistling squalls and lashing rain that swept the Pacific ocean last night, came calls by wireless of Japanese and British sea dogs talking in secret code and trying to convey a message to the British wireless station at Victoria, B. C.

By their superior wireless equipment they jammed the coast stations of California, which from 7:30 until after midnight were rendered powerless to talk to one another or to ask questions of the armored night riders.

THOUSAND OHIOANS TO APPEAR IN PARADE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—One thousand Ohioans will line up in the big parade on the morning of February 20, according to the statements of C. E. Keaton, president of the Ohio Society of California.

Plans for the dedication of the Ohio building will be outlined at a meeting of the society to be held Thursday evening at 7:45 sharp, in room 233 Pacific building, Fourth and Market streets. All Ohioans are requested to attend or to communicate with the secretary, E. G. Cook, at once.

Daniel B. Torpy, managing director of the Ohio commission, will address the meeting, calling upon every Ohioan in the state to participate in the dedication of the Ohio building on February 24.

Governor Willis and his staff will attend the dedication and the many social affairs planned by the society.

UNIVERSITY REPORTS
THEFT OF MICROSCOPES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—John Dowd, representing Stanford University, notified the police this morning that two valuable microscopes had been stolen from one of the laboratories and that it was expected that they would be recovered here. Who is responsible for the theft was not known. It is understood that an investigation is in progress. The police were not asked to make arrests but were instructed that they should recover the microscopes if possible by making a search of the pawn shops.
